Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Goal: A Dramatic Fragment Scene. - The Bedroom Sir Stephen Famariss, Belgrave Square. A very richly-furnished apartment, with every evidence of wealth and luxury. A handsome brass bedstead, with the bedclothes rumpled, is in the left-hand corner of the room, placed sideways to audience. A large bow-window, rather-deeply recessed, is in the right-hand corner of the room, and looks across to the handsome ballroom of another house. The ballroom is lighted and decorated for a dance, and figures are seen moving across its windows in accordance with indications given through the play. Where, however, the stage appointments do not allow of the ballroom being seen and the guests being handsomely dressed, the window must be so arranged as to suggest that the ballroom is at the side, out of sight, and not facing the audience. A door left down stage. Above the door a large handsome bureau. A door right up stage. Down stage left a handsome fireplace with small fire burning. A mirror over fireplace. A large comfortable sofa down stage right centre. A small table left of sofa just above it. Another small table down stage left with lamp lighted, a medicine bottle or two, spirit lamp, and other paraphernalia of a sick room. A large pier looking-glass up stage at foot of bedstead. Other furniture as required, all indicating great wealth and comfort. Time, about ten on an April evening. Moonlight through window. Discover on sofa, asleep, Sir Stephen Famariss. A rug is thrown over him, and his head is buried in a pillow, so that the audience see nothing but a figure under the rug. About the Publisher Forgotten Books...
